CROSSFIELD NEWS IN BRIEF

MRS. IRENE BENNY is the centre of a Quebec hospital dispute. Superintendent of the community hospital at Pontiac, she was fired by the board of directors without the reason ever having been made public. Nurses recently held a three-hour wildcat strike in support of Mrs. Benny.

Shower Will Be Held, Everybody Welcome!

CROSSFIELD—The shower for Ruthie McCool will be held in the church parlor at 8:15 p.m. Saturday, July 21. Miscellaneous and open to all interested friends, so keep the date in mind and be sure of a welcome.

Miss Eleanor Gale, former teacher of Crossfield School, and Urett Harder were married in Calgary on Friday.

Birgit Anderson and Joyce Kotow are at CGIT camp at Sylvan Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Brandon are happy in the birth of a daughter, Valerie Jean, in General Hospital, Calgary, on July 8 (Sunday). Little brother is very happy to have a little sister.

The Crossfield United Church is getting a new shingling job done. This is all volunteer work. It is not before the church needed it, however. The inside needs redecorating but owing to the bad roof it was decided to shingle first and stop any leaks that might ruin an inside job. Two local men have volunteered to spray the roof with paint if the rain will subside enough to warrant the job.

Mr. Tom Pearey, sales manager of Renfrew Motors, Calgary, and his wife and son were visitors at the B. Lilley home recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Daw from New Mexico were recent visitors to the latter's parental home Mr. and Mrs. Alton High, Crossfield.

Mrs. Myrtle Bolick from Van Nuys, Calif., and two friends are visiting in town and district. Mrs. Bolick is a sister of the Bills family.

Miss Barbara Bills is back from the hospital and is convalescing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Banta, due to the fact that Barbara's sister, Rosalyn, has the measles at home.

Mrs. Victor Law, who has recently undergone surgery in a Calgary hospital, has gone for a visit to her parents in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Honeysett of Victoria, B.C., are visiting their daughter and son-in-law and family, the Walter Wilsons of Crossfield.

Mr. Arnold Allers, recent employee of Canadian Bank of Commerce, has already been transferred to Warner. Arnold enjoyed the week-end with his family at Kneehill Valley when his folks entertained at a family reunion of 35 guests.

Mrs. Hawkey, Sr., of Airdrie, returned from visiting relatives in the East, on Thursday last. She made the trip by TCA.

Eddie Brandon has rented from Mr. Hawkey.

THE MAIL GOES through, despite the rigors of battle, this time swinging precariously along a "jackstay" from HMCS Nookta (Z16), one of the Canadian destroyers serving with United Nations forces in Korean waters. Mail is delivered to active naval personnel by UN warships.

Old School Chums Meet At Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ruddy entertained at a delightful chicken dinner on Tuesday evening of last week in honor of Mrs. Ruddy's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence from Powell River, B.C. There were 16 guests seated and a social evening was much enjoyed as Mrs. Lawrence—nee Ellen O'Neill—was a high school student and classmate to six of the guests in the 1916-17 year with Mr. E. H. Morrow as principal. Mr. and Mrs. Clark from Beynon attended.

DOESN'T MAKE SENSE!

Clothing's Decried British Plan Of Uniforms For Kids

Edmonton clothiers this week took a long-range look at a British plan to dress all children in uniforms and declared it just didn't make sense.

Sir William Darling had made the proposal in the Commons. The Conservative member said putting all children in a "standard uniform" up to the age of 14 would cut sharply the cost of clothing them in these days of soaring prices.

Furth more, he said, the kids would love it.

CRY 'UNFAIR'

Edmonton clothiers sided with the London trade journal, Tailor and Cutter, in crying "Unfair!"

The bible of British tailoring industry said in an editorial:

"Sir William argues that children do not want to look different from each other."

"He is probably right for children inevitably struggle against doing what is good for them."

"Children would also like to smoke, and stay up until 4 o'clock in the morning, and live on jam. But it has been generally recognized that such natural instincts are best discouraged."

In Edmonton, the men who run children's clothing departments agreed. They said further that there would be little saving in uniforms, and what's more, mothers wouldn't be able to identify their infants across the street.

Says Indians Are Treated Like Slaves

Stoney Chief Joe House said here Canadian Indians "have been brought up as slaves and cowards without the chance to speak for themselves."

Chief Joe House spoke at a supper meeting of the Society of Friends of the Indians. He said the Federal Government wishes to introduce regulations which would prevent rations—financed out of bond funds held in trust by the Federal Government—from being distributed to needy Indians.

Chief John Calihoo of the Michel Reserve said Indians have been placed in "concentration camp" reserves.

"If we had not been separated from the white people so long we would be far better off," he said.

Dinner Bridge For Old Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Casey entertained in their home, Friday, July 13, at a delightful dinner bridge in honor of old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence from B.C., who have been visiting in Crossfield district for the past two weeks. It was a very pleasant evening with a sumptuous dinner at 7 p.m. and a midnight lunch. The honors for the three-table bridge went to Frank Ruddy and Mrs. Lawrence.

KOREAN NURSES, Miss Kee in Yew, left, and Mrs. Keun Pyo Hong, are seen on their arrival in Lamont, Alta., to study nursing at the Archer Memorial hospital. They stopped over briefly in Edmonton en route from their homeland to the town they will live and work in for the next two years.

SOUTHERN islands of the Caribbeans will be objective of Cliff and Aylee Stuart of Toronto, above, who are recruiting eight sea-lovers to share the cost of an expedition to recover sunken gold and gems. Stuart estimates that one-eighth of the world's mined gold and silver has been sunk in shipwrecks, and he is intent on recovering a share of it.

Hail Insurance

A good example of co-operation among farmers for the common good is the work of the Alberta Hail Insurance Board. For only $5.00 down payment any farmer can get his 1951 crop insured against loss by hail—anytime before the hail strikes. Up to the first of July 15,000 Alberta farmers had done this. The small premium each farmer finally pays, when the crop is completed, is as nothing compared to his losses if hail strikes.

Of the 15,000 farmers co-operating perhaps 3,000 will witness hail damage to their crops. Without hail insurance such hail damage would be a calamity to the farmer and his family. But the hail insurance premium is no calamity. Heavy hail loss would lower the individual's standard of living pitifully for a full year, but the insurance premium represents no loss to his living standards.

We believe not only in hail insurance but over-all crop insurance. The sooner farmers are protected by full crop coverage, the sooner our Western farm economy will be on a surer and safer footing.

Rental Fee--For What?

Farmers in the Avenir district, 16 or more miles north-east of Plamondon, have a peculiar situation on their hands. At the conclusion of World War II a number of new settlers moved into this area which was not surveyed and had no roads except the trails made by the settlers themselves. But the land looked good and in the true spirit of the pioneer, these hardy folk ventured forth and "squatted" on the land. The Government took no notice of them, gave them nothing.

That was in 1945. Comes 1951. The Provincial Government steps in and assesses these people $1.25 per year for each cultivated acre, plus 8% of their crops starting with the current crop year.

This is the same Government that is spending thousands of dollars to bring immigrants to Alberta, the same administration that is opening up huge areas in the remote districts bordering the North-West Territories. Laudable as these projects are, isn't it just a little small-minded and vindictive to penalize people who have stepped out on their own, and without the use of public funds, opened up new tracts of land for settlement?

We submit that the areas occupied by the Avenir farmers be declared homestead land and when they've met the terms of homesteading, that they be given title for a fee of $5.00 per quarter section. To do otherwise is to deny a declared principle of Social Credit—free enterprise.

Great Promises

The defeat of the Liberal candidate in the by-election in the Brandon, Manitoba, constituency is being attributed by some daily newspapers to the Canadian government's grain marketing policy. It is difficult to say to what extent this is so. Supporters of the open market have, for several years now, conducted a most intensive campaign in an effort to prove that the Wheat Board's operations have resulted in losses of hundreds of millions of dollars to the wheat producers. The extent and persistency of such a campaign may have results.

It is quite possible that opponents of the Wheat Board may succeed in destroying that organization and in restoring the speculative system of grain marketing. In that event the speculative market will have to live up to the roseate picture now being presented by its supporters. It will be most interesting to see then what will happen.

Note and Comment

"The King and I" (with apologies to the Motion Picture of the same name) had a working arrangement on writing checks. We used our signature and His Majesty's picture on a 3c stamp. Often we've thought how nice it would be if we could use The King's signature in place of his picture. Now we have Sir Robert L. Borden's picture on the 3c stamp to grace our check writing efforts, and with all due respect to the late Prime Minister we don't find the check writing experience any more painless or inspiring than with The King.

Case of The Headless Duckling

By T. W. PUE

This mystery of robbery and murder made its imprint on my conscious mind as I drove along highway thirteen, westward bound, within three miles of Daysland. I could see the tops of the Daysland elevators from a rise in the highway and then they disappeared from view as my Morris Minor reached the bottom of a depression in the road. At that point I met the distressed mother, pacing frantically back and forth across the road.

T. W. PUE

At this time of year it is not unusual to see a female duck on or near the road, with little balls of peeping fluff running after her. But this duck was alone and obviously in distress so I pulled up sharply at the side of the road and then she flew away. The roadway was dry and I could see no water on either side of the road. Not a good place for ducks. Mother duck tried to mislead me by flying a circuitous route away from the highway scene. She flew low across the fence, and then acted as though she was wounded and unable to fly. She wanted me to chase her, instead of looking for her nest, but I walked to the other side of the road and as I approached the tall grass noticed a movement among the weeds. Almost in the same instant I came upon the duck's nest and spied the black and white marauder—an old house cat slinking and then bounding away.

That murder had been done, there was no doubt. In the nest was the headless and still warm body of a baby duckling, that couldn't have been hatched for more than 24 hours. There were no other ducklings in the nest and no unhatched eggs. Just empty egg shells.

The cat got away easily without leaving any paw prints and with no witnesses other than the mother duck to the crime. The murdering cat has been seen but unidentified. Mother duck was left to return to her empty and unhappy home beside the road, and in true duck logic weigh the advantages and disadvantages of building a nest in future so near to farm homes that harbor cats.

Reconstructing the whole story, I would say it went something like this: The Mother duck of our story is an independent female that can't stand to have other women in her neighborhood, and rather than set up housekeeping near a pond or slough where the other ducks go, she went off to the busy highway and settled near the water-filled cut-away at the side of the road. She built her nest, and for 23½ hours per day kept constant vigil on the pretty little eggs which she laid, one a day, for six days. Every afternoon she left her unborn family for 30 minutes' swimming, eating and drinking at the side of her nest until the eggs began to hatch.

A week ago the water dried up completely and she had to fly over the bushes to the pond where the other ducks were. That was the day the first egg stirred beneath her wing and the first peep-peep sounded from the otherwise still and lifeless eggs. That evening, duckling number one broke his shell, and with his wet feathers snuggled closer to his mother's warm body. Then the murderer appeared on the scene.

Mr. Cat may have been casing the joint all along, without disturbing the tenant of the house. But this day he thoroughly frightened poor Mrs. Duck, who tried, in vain, to lure him away from her nest by flying across the road and flopping around like an injured bird and an easy prey. Mr. Cat callously disregarded her frightened and anguished pleas and first murdered the helpless duckling, and then stole the warm little body.

When the disturbance was over, Mrs. Duck returned to her nest and next day hatched out egg Number 2, with the same sequence of events. The murder and robbery was repeated every day until there were no more eggs and no more ducklings left.

Conclusion: If duck hunters would do a little cat shooting in springtime there would be more ducks to hunt in the fall.

An Issue For Calgary West?

(From Calgary Albertan)

At last the Conservatives have handed in to the Speaker of the House of Commons the resignation of A. L. Smith, the member for Calgary West. Mr. Drew's excuse that he hoped to persuade Mr. Smith to withdraw his resignation doesn't fool anybody. When Mr. Smith says something he means it. When he signed his resignation last February that was final.

Gerald Waring, press gallery representative for the Victoria Colonist, says "nobody has been able to figure out the P.C.'s strategy in holding back the resignation . . . The people of Calgary West have a legitimate grievance against the P.C.'s. As one member of the Commons told me, 'I would just love to contest that by-election, and I'd fight it on the grounds that the P.C.'s disfranchised the people of Calgary West.'"

The world today is a tinder-keg, and the oil crisis in Iran could easily set off another war even as peace negotiations in Korea are being carried on.

TAX COW MOOS

Dear Sir—Do the Government boys stay up nights figuring up new ways to milk the public? This income tax was high enough, now they add 20%. They make you pay interest, yet pay no interest on your own money they withhold. Will we have to pay income tax on old age pensions? On the checks it says return check to the Government if pensioner is deceased. Why shouldn't the check go to his estate? Many of us don't have hair to comb, but how about taxing complaints on the taxes from us old tax cows?

PAPER MONOPOLY

Dear Sir—A lot of us are still wondering exactly what DID happen to the Edmonton Bulletin. If the Journal didn't buy the Bulletin, as they said, why wasn't the newspaper divided evenly between the Edmonton Sun and the Edmonton Journal? Why should one publisher get it all?

WAY OF A MOTHER

Dear Sir—It is tragic indeed, the case of that beautiful young Southern girl who is doomed by cancer, and is being deprived of the "man" she loves but who was cowed and dominated by his mother into breaking off with her. Why are men—and girls, too—such cowards because of Hitlerite mothers? I am in love and always will be in love with a girl who loves me. But she is dominated by a neurotic mother who hates to see her own daughter even talk to men. Why should old tyrants be permitted to ruin young lives?

HITLER'S NEW HANGOUT?

Dear Sir—A recent writer in another paper said there was no positive evidence of Hitler's death. I will go further: I believe Hitler is very much alive. Not only that, I have seen circumstantial evidence that he is not only alive but in the Kremlin right now, doing some expert plotting with his pal Joe.

Wainwright Military Camp Mushrooms As 4,000 Soldiers Occupy 'Canvas City'

With the arrival of about 4,000 soldiers from many parts of Canada completed, Wainwright Military Camp in north-east Alberta is virtually a "canvas city" surrounded by over 130,000 acres of ideal training areas.

In a matter of six weeks 740 marquees and bell tents have blossomed in tent-lines adjacent to the existing 75 buildings which formerly housed a training centre and later prisoners-of-war. Regimental kitchens, messes, canteens and offices as well as the soldiers' living quarters are located in the long lines of marquees. Each marquee accommodates 16 soldiers.

From the time bulldozers first started to level ground for the tent floor boards the gigantic task of creating the tented camp has been a rush priority for sappers of the Royal Canadian Engineers. In short order they put in 8,000 feet of main water lines, over eight miles of branch water pipe, and over 4,000 water taps. In the cook tents, 22 marquees, they installed 88 propane stoves as well as water heaters.

LIGHTS LINE ROADS

Street lights line the roads of Wainwright canvas camp and every tent is well lighted so that when troops return from the field and their "training like mad" programs they find all the amenities.

According to Brigadier W. J. McGill, officer commanding the camp and commander 25 Canadian Infantry Brigade Replacement Group, "Training area and facilities here are second-to-none and everything is being rushed to see that after-duty hours will be equally as good".

The new tent-lines are a temporary measure. In the fields next to the regimental lines three contracting firms and the army sappers are raising permanent and semi-permanent buildings which when completed this fall will be able to house and train the full complement of training troops.

At present 67 buildings are under construction ranging from sunset type "H" huts to steel and frame drill halls and recreation buildings. The present construction plan calls for completion by 15 September. More will be added next year.

According to Major A. S. Millen of Chilliwack, commander

19 Works Company, RCE, permanently stationed there, there are about 300 civilians working with his soldier crews in addition to the 250 civilians employed by contracting firms. During the coming summer a peak of about 1,000 civilian tradesmen will be reached.

BIG PROJECTS

In addition to the 67 buildings, 70 hour work-weeks from now until the snow flies will account for such items as 78,000 square yards of tarmac paving on the roads and drill squares in the camp area, a central refrigeration plant of 48,000 cubic feet storage, 48 miles of new gravel roads into training areas, an enclosed swimming pool, ordnance and distribution centres, and seven new firing ranges for rifle, pistol, and small automatic weapons.

One of the major tasks to be undertaken this year will be the weir damming of the Battle River as a campwater source. From here water to be pumped into Betty Lake, the main reservoir for the future. As double water-insurance, three wells have been drilled for present use and future emergency.

To add to the military community plans are now on R.C.E. drafting boards in Edmonton for the rapid construction of a theatre, camp canteen and bowling alley. They will be located near the two hangar-size gymnasiums now under construction.

During past years used by reserve troops as a mess and sleeping quarters, the camp hospital is now fully remodelled and re-equipped as a 100-bed establishment capable of all types of treatment and operations.

According to present plans immediate and proposed construction will total over 170 buildings of all types with a possibility of more being added in years to come.

Active force units now in Wainwright include: Headquarters 25 Canadian Infantry Brigade Replacement Group; 3rd Battalion Royal Canadian Regiment, Royal 22nd Regiment, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry; Holding Establishments for the regiments; Royal Canadian Horse Artillery; Lord Strathcona's Horse; 23 Field Squadron, Royal Canadian Engineers; and service units of the medicals, ordnance, signals, army service corps, Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers, dental, and provost.

Last Indian to Take Part In Sun Dance Ritual Dies

CARDSTON, Alta. — (BUP) — The last of the Blood Indians who took part in the tribe's cruel Sun Dance ritual has gone to the happy hunting grounds.

Heavy Head, an 83-year-old Blood, who once scouted for the Standoff detachment of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, died in a Cardston hospital.

He was the last surviving member of the tribe to bear the marks of the Sun Dance on both his breasts and back. The ceremony which left the scars was held in 1889, before police stopped the practice.

In the dance, young braves adorned themselves with sagebrush and inserted small cherrywood skewers in their breasts. Rawhide thongs led from the skewers to the sacrificial pole and the braves tried to tear them loose as they danced.

Some had to dance twice before they broke away.

Before and after the ceremony, the Indians fasted and prayed in seclusion, with relatives bringing them only water and encouragement.

When in the city shop around the corner and save.

Canadian Football Clubs Want U.S. College Players

MONTREAL—(BUP)—Far-seeing Lew Hayman is back at his favorite blueprint with another suggestion for making Canadian football bigger and better.

The coach of the Eastern Big Four Union's Montreal Alouettes, who doubles as his club's managing director, thought it was high time Canadian teams were allowed to participate in the United States college draft.

FULL OF IDEAS

The idea was the latest to stem from the brain of Hayman, who is as responsible as anyone for the sport's cross-country boom. He differs from many in one respect, however. He wants the game to grow even bigger, and he has a dozen or more sound ideas which might help it along.

His latest suggestion stemmed from the increasing rivalry between grid circles in this country and the U.S., prompted by Canada's stepped-up search for talent south of the border.

The Montreal mogul thinks the tension would be lessened if Canadian clubs were allowed to draft U.S. college stars.

"As it is now, the National Professional Football League has exclusive drafting rights," Hayman pointed out. "It lists 300 or 400 such players, and leaves nothing for Canada."

"Our game is big enough now for us to be in the field for this talent, too. But when none of this supply is left for us, we are forced to deal with players listed on the rosters of NFL teams, and that's what has caused the present friction."

The game's great source of talent is the United States, in much the same way that Canada is the fountainhead of raw material for hockey. Hayman thinks the mine of wealth should be opened to football promoters on this continent, "whether they be American or Canadian."

Under the present closed draft system, teams in this country have found the American college field stripped bare by the U.S. pro clubs every year.

As a result, they have approached many established stars, and have succeeded in luring many of them northward with salaries that often exceeded those of American football.

The situation reached a climax recently when Myer Insky of Montreal, President of the Canadian Football Union, implored Canadian clubs to stop "raiding" American teams. Insky thinks the practice will lead to an official outlaw brand and eventual collapse of the game in this country.

Beiseker Reports 100% Damage

BEISEKER—Severe hailstorms damaged spring crops in south-central Alberta over the weekend. Damage was done in patches, but the most affected areas suffered damage near the 100 per cent mark.

On Saturday evening a report from Beiseker stated 100 per cent damage when a strip 2½ miles wide and 12 miles long was riddled. The storm was accompanied by heavy rain and wind. The storm was also reported in the Keoma district and a stretch from Kathryn to Lyalta was completely halled out. Windows in homes were smashed.

Hail lashed the Irricana district, where three strips north of High River bore the strain of the storm Sunday. A heavy hailstorm was also reported in Irricana on Friday afternoon. Damage was done to 26 window panes in one home alone. The hail was hard enough to penetrate both storm and inside windows.

On Saturday hail hit in a strip about six miles wide in the Keoma area. In the area between Irricana and Airdrie the hail levelled everything.

LETTER TO LOUISA

Finds Sixteen-Year-Olds Demonstrations Distasteful

Dear Louisa:

I am the mother of a high school girl and I try to be progressive and keep up with the times.

However, it seems to me that the girls and boys of the present time are entirely too free with each other and to put it mildly, do things that are in extremely bad taste even if no moral issues were involved.

My daughter, who is sixteen, goes with one boy all of the time. They come out of the school building with arms around each other and kissing each other goodbye means absolutely nothing.

Am I wrong or am I right?

MOTHER.

Answer:

I agree with you that it cheapens a girl to be pawed over. And it certainly doesn't help her reputation when she allows these liberties in public.

If a boy is very much in love with a girl, it seems to me that he should be very careful to protect her good name and do nothing to make people think less of her.

When a boy insists on taking liberties in public, it is usually not because he is so much in love but because he is conceited and anxious for people to see how crazy the girl is about him.

The least that can be said for him is that he is thoughtless and selfish.

LOUISA.

Dear Louisa:

I am engaged to a boy who seems to be a fine fellow in lots of ways but he has one fault that worries me very much. He will say rude things to me and he seems to think it a sign of superiority to put me in my place. He always says such things when we are with other people but is very polite and courteous when we are alone.

I suppose he wishes to sound sophisticated and smart but I am sure other people like him less when he acts like this.

I am thinking of breaking my engagement because of this. Do you think it would be wise?

A. L.

Answer:

Why don't you talk to him about it? Perhaps he doesn't realize how he sounds to other people when he is "showing off." Some people try to cover up their timidity or lack of confidence in themselves by being rude but, although they mean no harm, it is tough on the other fellow.

If he doesn't turn over a new leaf, I'd think a long time, if I were you, before I married him. I shouldn't care to live with a man who was careless about hurting my feelings.

LOUISA.

The LIGHTER SIDE

Good Job

He had managed to get a job as collector for the Gas Board. "Take this master key and go around and empty all the coin boxes; get all the money," said the manager.

He was gone for three weeks. Then he walked into the office and announced: "Can I have another key, I've lost 'other one."

"Certainly," replied the manager. "But where have you been all this time?" The cashier has stopped late every night expecting you to come for your wages." "Gee!" exclaimed the man, beaming, "do I get wages as well?"

Inconsistent

He—I wonder why women are so inconsistent?

She—Why, what do you mean?

He—They are perfectly willing to be photographed in a bathing suit or evening gown yet they are embarrassed to death over a little hole in their stocking.

Circuitous Result

"Did you find a suitable wife through your matrimonial advertisement?" "Yes, I had so many replies that I had to employ a typist and I married the typist."
